Rooted in Romanian capital Bucharest, raised in Germany and based in Basel, Switzerland, Robert has grown under a massive musical influence since he was born. Acoustics has always been his passion, leading him to discover many different genre. As a 90s child, he formed his musically path with the music of this era and started as a rapper at 16 years old.

After several years of rap music, mixtapes and home made beats, he started to dig into the electronic music scene. With a special taste for minimal and techno, he quickly grew into his position as a DJ. In 2014 he began to collaborate with his friend Ioanis, under the alias Ioanis & Don Son. Deepness, spheric atmospheres and melodic music was and is still his personal touch. Together they're running Wildfang Music, producing more and more music under this name (and others), expanding with more projects which will rise from the ground very soon. As he always seek for new musical horizons, Robert is a part of different projects. One as the duo Opal and the other through his other name Robert Sebastian, where he can express more progressive synthetic and melodic techno genre.

In 2016 he launched his channel Mehrvondenteilen, on which he is hosting podcasts, premieres and free downloads. Nowadays he is successfully playing on different well known venues in Berlin, Basel, Zurich, London, Ibiza and many more. His goal is to mesmerize listeners all over the world with magic and spheres, expressed through his told stories.
